

Background:

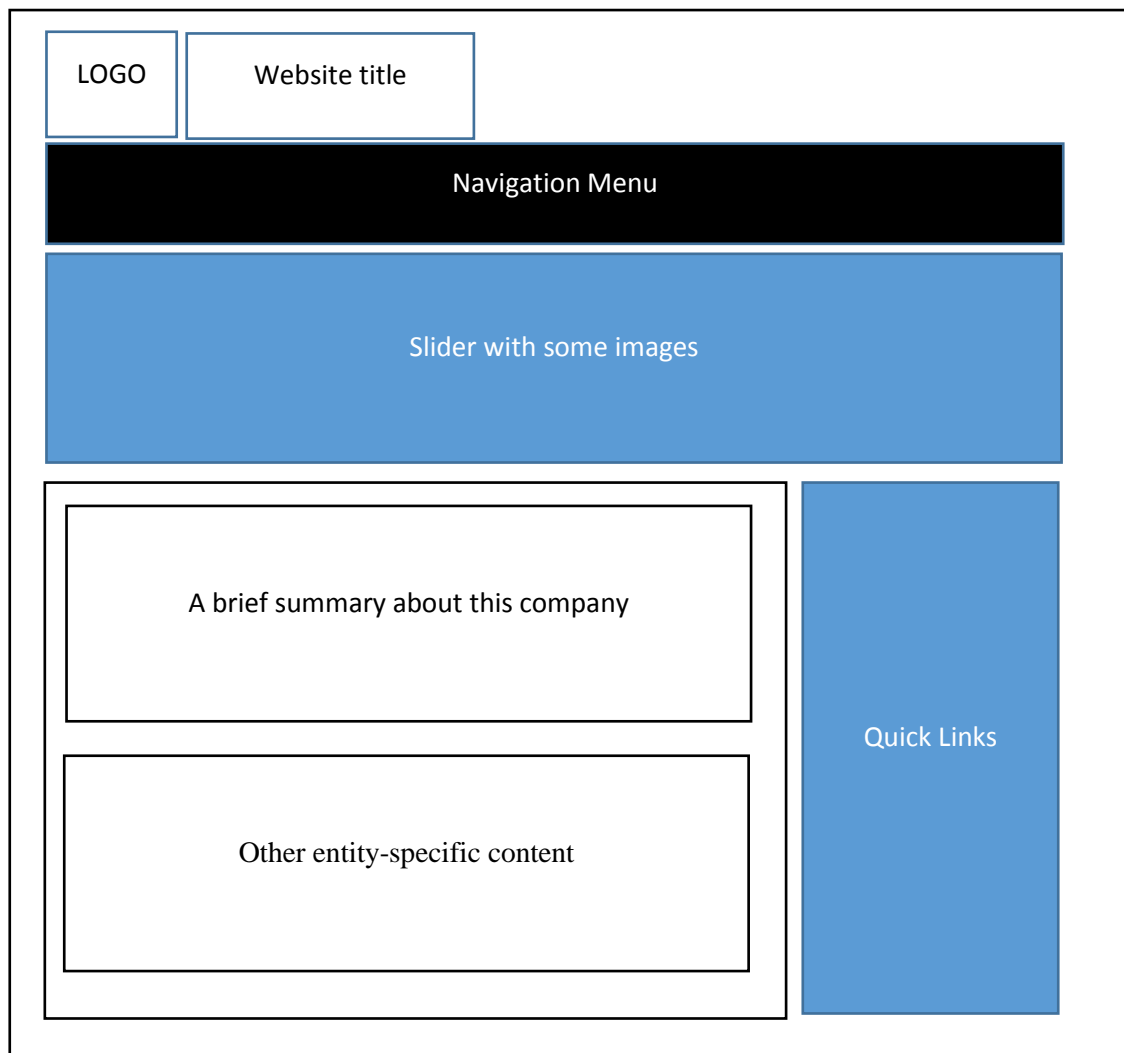

According to the previous assignment of this course, I found that the wireframe is a very important stage during one website development because the wireframe document is one of the most important output during requirement development stage.

With the previous assignment, I must change the wireframe in assignment 2 because I could not define the details and requirements in assignment 1.

So, in this course project, at the very beginning stage, I built this wireframe document.

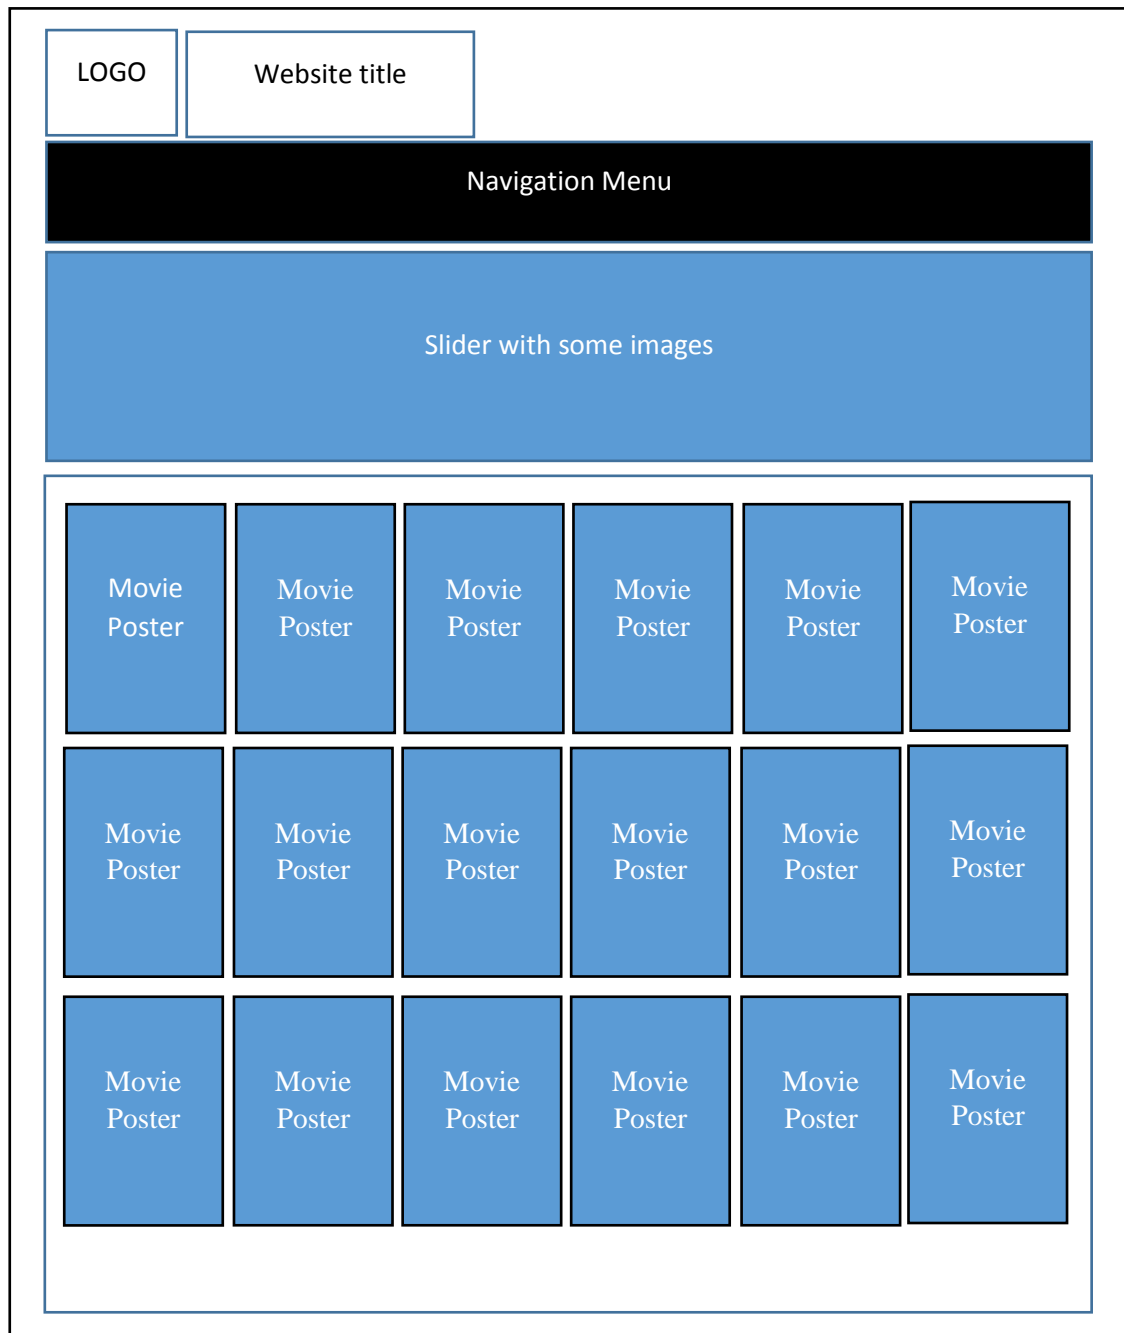

Homepage Design:

In this part, I give the main components in the homepage as follows:

Products webpage design:

In this part, I give the main components in the products webpage as follows. This webpage is the most important because one good design can attract users to go to our cinema. After considering, I decide to design this webpage using a simple but clear layout: using each movie's poster in a picture wall.

About webpage design:

In this part, I give the main components in the about webpage as follows. According to the requirements in the course project document, this part must be descriptive. So, I put four contents in this webpage:

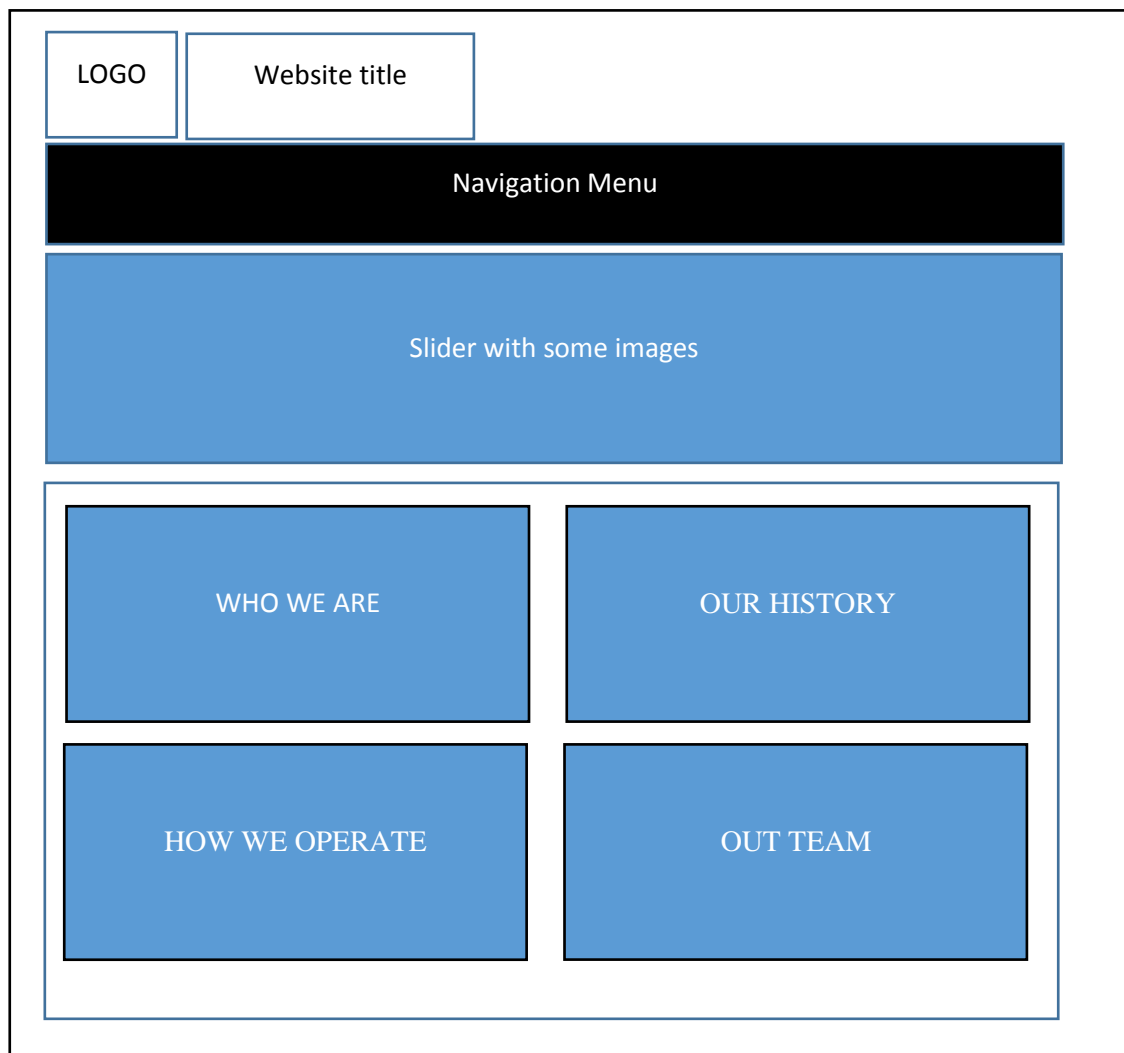

Who we are

Our history

How we operate

Our team

The content of each topic comes from the Lorem Ipsum, I will generate text from <http://www.lipsum.com/> in order to fill in the concrete topic.

Contact webpage design:

In this part, I give the main components in the contact webpage as follows. According to the requirements, this web page should include a paragraph text with a fictitious email address of the company and other contact details, this will be the first components in this webpage.
